

VOLLEYBALL: DOUBLE DELIGHT FOR THE GRAVEDIGGERS

Honiton off to a flying start

It's a division two head-to-head with high flying Exeter Prison

EXETER AND DISTRICT VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE

HONITON have started the season with two wins out of two.

They're battling it out with Exeter Prison in Division 2 of the Exeter & District League.

Honiton, alias The Gravediggers, beat Culm Valley 2 in straight sets, 15-1, 15-9, 15-3, with a fine display of serving and domination at the net.

Player of the match Mike Halse gave his spikers a good supply of high balls, which enabled Geoff Burgess and Nigel Peppler to power home the advantage against the new look Culm Valley side.

The Gravediggers went on to beat Wonford Panthers 3-0.

Following their 2-1 loss at Channings Wood, Wonford Beta Blockers gained a 3-0 victory in their first home match of the season at Wonford Sports Centre against Culm Valley 1.

Cullompton skipper Robin Delve always looked dangerous and the first set could have gone either way, until the home side took the advantage and pulled away to win 15-7. The second set was a similar affair, with the Culm Valley defence playing particularly well. However, player of the match Steve Raine broke the deadlock with some positive spiking enabling Blockers to take the set 15-8.

Culm Valley could not salvage anything in the final set, as Blockers looked far more confident to win 15-4.

Torexe turn around

TOREXE'S fortunes in Division Four of the English Volleyball League have taken a turn for the better.

After the disappointment of early season defeats at Gloucester, the Exeter-based team have now dropped only one set in their last four fixtures.

Their latest success was two victories, both by three sets to nil, in their triangular fixture with struggling pair Weymouth and Helston at Clifton Hill.

Torexe were taking on Thames Valley Vultures and Royal Navy in Reading today.
